

88 percent less greenhouse gas emissions.

With this type of environmental accomplishment, Hybrids aren't exactly shy about showing off. Green Hs and paint jobs are all over the trucks and cars, making it easy to spot a hybrid driver.

A nearby driver stops next to the GMC Yukon that's being taken out for a test drive, with her music blasting and a grin on her face. "I save more money with my hybrid. Even with a used hybrid, this car is more efficient, it's so quiet, and I like helping the environment."
